DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-6, drawn to a method of producing an alkaline storage battery, classified in class 29, subclass 623.5.
  - II. Claims 7-9, drawn to a method of producing an alkaline storage battery formed by rolling a negative electrode, classified in class 29, subclass 623.1.
  - III. Claims 10, 16-17, drawn to a hydrogen absorbing alloy electrode, classified in class 429, subclass 218.2.
  - IV. Claim 11, 13-15, drawn to a method of producing a hydrogen absorbing alloy electrode, classified in class 429, subclass 218.2.
  - V. Claim 12, drawn to a method of producing a hydrogen absorbing alloy electrode comprising a binder-coating step, classified in class 429, subclass 218.2.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions, are unrelated because they are not disclosed as capable of use together and have different effects such that Invention I does not require a spiral form electrode group formed by rolling a negative electrode and a low-temperature drying step.

Art Unit: 1745

3. Inventions IV and V are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are unrelated because they are not disclosed as capable of use together and have different effects such that Invention V has a binder-coating step which is not present in Invention IV and Invention IV requires a low-temperature drying step which is not required in Invention V.

4. Inventions III and IV, V are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process such as shown that Inventions IV and V are not related and have different method steps.

5. Inventions I, II and III, IV, V are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are not disclosed as capable of use together and have different modes of operations, different functions and different effects such that Inventions I and II are method steps to making a battery versus Inventions IV and V which are method steps to making a hydrogen absorbing alloy electrode and Invention III is the hydrogen absorbing alloy electrode.

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. A telephone call was made to Mr. Crawford on June 16, 2003 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

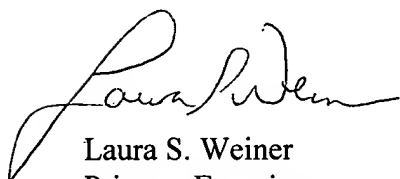

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).

9. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Laura Weiner whose telephone number is (703) 308-4396. The examiner works a flexible schedule.
